About Me

I am a Computer Engineering graduate with hands-on experience in backend development and ERP systems, particularly in defense and manufacturing sectors. I have worked with .NET Framework, REST & GraphQL APIs, WinForms, and .NET MAUI, building scalable solutions adopted across multiple business units.

Looking ahead, I am committed to building a long-term career in software development, where I can combine my technical experience with my passion for creating efficient and robust systems. I am open to new technologies, enjoy solving complex problems, and thrive in collaborative environments.
